

Youth Climate Action Dialogue @COP28

To all educational institutions!

With every world climate conference, the call for concrete action becomes louder. But what does this mean for your institution, for your students, for their careers, for their life paths? What is burning on the soul of young people? In self-organized dialogue rounds you can jointly develop questions and post it to the Youth4planet reporter teams.

They will ask them to selected delegates when they meet in Dubai for the COP28 Climate Conference Nov 30th. to Dec. 12. to discuss our common future on Earth.

Their answers will be presented in a daily show and broadcast. Every educational institution is invited to follow the debate on the hot topics of the day, such as food security, water, energy supply, education, etc.

Find out here how to participate:
